INTRODUCTION

A. Definitions

1. Personal identity information (“PII”) means any name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, access code, access device or account number, driver’s license number, personal identification number (“PIN”), telephone number, signature, and other means of identification.

2. “Identity theft victim” means any real person whose PII was obtained and used by others without lawful authority.

3. The Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) is an agency of the United States Department of the Treasury (“Treasury”) responsible for enforcing and administering the tax laws of the United States. The IRS allows taxpayers to file their U.S. Individual Income Tax Returns (Forms 1040) (“tax returns”) electronically (“e-file”) directly or

1 through a tax preparation business, like TurboTax. The IRS issues tax refunds either: (a)
2 in the form of Treasury checks via the United States Postal Service; or (b) by direct
3 deposit to bank accounts or debit cards designated on a tax return.

4 4. "Intuit" is the parent company of TurboTax, a Web-based tax preparation
5 business. Intuit maintained a server in San Diego and electronically routed e-filed tax
6 returns through this server before ultimately sending the returns to the IRS for filing.

7 5. The Green Dot Corporation ("Green Dot") issues prepaid MasterCard and 8 Visa debit cards ("Green Dot cards") in the United States that may be obtained online or 9 purchased at more than 60,000 retail stores. A Green Dot card user can add money to the 10 card by paying cash at a retail store's point of sale, transferring funds from their bank
11 accounts, or directly depositing funds, including tax refunds. The IRS and Web-based 12 services like TurboTax permit taxpayers to elect to have a tax refund directly deposited to 13 accounts associated with prepaid debit cards, such as a Green Dot card.

14 6. Mobile broadband cards, also known as wireless air cards ("wireless air 15 cards"), are small mobile devices typically inserted into the USB port of a computer to 16 connect to the Web using the wireless cellular networks of phone providers. Because 17 wireless air cards utilize cellular networks, they allow users to access the Web without the 18 need for a Wi-Fi connection. These devices can be purchased online or at various retail
19 stores. To use a wireless air card, the user typically obtains either a data plan with a
20 wireless cellular network provider, or prepaid or short-term plans that can be purchased
21 online and at many retail stores.

22 7. "J1" means a foreign national who holds a J1 visa. A "J1 visa" is a non-
23 immigrant, short-term cultural exchange visa issued by the United States Department of 24 State that allows foreign nationals to come to the United States for a short period of time
25 (generally three months) to study, work, or travel. In order to obtain a J1 visa, the foreign 26 national must have a United States sponsor and, in most instances, a pending job offer.

27 8. "F1" means a foreign national who holds an F1 visa. An "F1 visa" is a non-
28 immigrant, short-term student visa that allows foreign nationals to come to the United States for a period of time (generally 18 months with the possibility of an extension), for full-time academic study. F1 visa holders must maintain a full course of study while in the United States and demonstrate that they can support themselves.

B. Defendants

VYACHESLAV TSOY (27), aka Kachal, aka Slava, ULAN ZAKIROV (28), and TAIYR ZHURYN (29), all JIs or FIs, participated in the conspiracy by, among other things, recruiting other coconspirators, receiving mail, opening bank accounts, and conducting bank transactions to further the conspiracy.

CONSPIRACY

(18 U.S.C. § 371)

14. The Grand Jury hereby realleges, and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 13 of this Indictment as if fully set forth herein.

15. Beginning on a date unknown to the Grand Jury, but as early as in or about March 2011, and continuing through at least November 2012, within the Southern District of California, and elsewhere, defendants ARTHUR GRIGORIAN (1), aka Artur, aka Kor, aka Mo, aka Ponch, aka Ponchik, aka Chagh, ERNEST SOLOIAN (2), aka Erik, and HOVHANNES HARUTYUNYAN (3), aka Hovo, aka Oz, aka Anaconda, aka Snake, aka Cobra, HAROUT GEVORGYAN (4), aka Noro, STANISLAV MELNIKOV (5), aka Stas, YVONNE MIHAILESCU (6), aka Blondie, SUKHROB MUSAYEV (7), aka Suxrob, RENAT TALANOV (8), ILYAS ABDRAKHAY (9), NURBEK AKHMADIYEV (10), INDIRA AKHMETOVA (11), MERUYERT AKHMETOVA (12), aka Mira, aka Tall One, SAGIT BATCHAEV (13), aka Chechen, KSENIA CHABANOVA (14), YERMEK DOSSYMBEKOV (15), KONSTANTIN IVANOV (16), YEVGENIY IVANOV (17), VYACHESLAV LAZAREV (18), KURBAN MAGALIYEV (19), PATIMAT MAGALIYEV (20), aka Fatima, ALISHER OMAROV (21), aka Aisher, MADLEN OSPANNOVA (22), KARINA POLOZOVA (23), ZHASSULAN SHILIKBAY (24), aka Jasik, aka Tall One, YELENA SKLYAROVA (25), YEVGENIY SOTNIKOV (26), VYACHESLAV TSOY (27), aka Kachal, aka Slava, ULAN ZAKIROV (28), and TAIYR ZHURYN (29), did knowingly and intentionally conspire and agree with each other and others, to commit the following offenses against the United States:

- a. Mail fraud, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1341;
- b. Wire fraud, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1343;
and
- c. Money laundering, in violation of Title 18, United States Code,
Section 1956(a)(1).

A. Manner and Means of the Conspiracy

16. The defendants and their coconspirators, both known and unknown to the Grand Jury (the “coconspirators”), used the following manner and means to carry out the objects of the conspiracy:

17. The coconspirators unlawfully obtained the PII of identity theft victims in order to file fraudulent tax returns in their names and Social Security numbers. The coconspirators valued “clean” stolen identities; that is, identities of individuals who were unlikely to file legitimate tax returns.

18. The coconspirators unlawfully submitted fraudulent tax returns to the IRS using the stolen PII of identity theft victims, including their names and Social Security numbers, for the purpose of obtaining fraudulent tax refunds. The coconspirators filed the fraudulent tax returns through the mail or electronically, either directly with the IRS or through a Web-based service, like TurboTax. Many returns e-filed through TurboTax were routed through Intuit’s server in San Diego, California, before ultimately being sent to the IRS for filing.

19. The coconspirators used wireless air cards to e-file fraudulent tax returns, thereby making it difficult for law enforcement to determine the location or Internet Protocol address (“IP address”) used to file a given fraudulent tax return. Further, the wireless air cards allowed the coconspirators to e-file fraudulent tax returns from any location with cellular coverage, without the need to be in a public Wi-Fi hot-spot.

20. The coconspirators caused the IRS to pay certain fraudulent tax refunds through Treasury checks that were mailed, via the United States Postal Service, to addresses listed on the tax returns and controlled by the conspirators. The coconspirators

1 used J1/F1s coconspirators to rent apartments and Post Office boxes in order to receive
2 the fraudulently obtained Treasury checks and other correspondence from the IRS.

3 21. The coconspirators obtained the unlawful proceeds of the mailed, fraudulent
4 tax refunds by having J1/F1s coconspirators and others retrieve and deliver to other
5 coconspirators the Treasury checks. The coconspirators compensated the J1/F1
6 coconspirators and others for such activity.

7 22. The coconspirators obtained prepaid debit cards, including Green Dot cards,
8 in the names of unsuspecting identity theft victims. The coconspirators then requested
9 that the IRS directly deposit, via interstate wires, fraudulently obtained tax refunds to such 10 cards (through linked direct deposit accounts) to help conceal the nature, location, source,
11 ownership, and control of the unlawfully obtained tax refunds.

12 23. The coconspirators opened bank accounts at a variety of banks, including 13 Wells Fargo Bank ("WFB"), Bank of America ("BoA"), Citibank, and U.S. Bank. The 14 coconspirators then requested that the IRS directly deposit, via interstate wires,
15 fraudulently obtained tax refunds to these accounts.

16 24. The coconspirators opened these bank accounts in the names of identity theft
17 victims, J1/F1 coconspirators (who were compensated for this activity), and fictitious
18 businesses, and utilized bank accounts of former J1/F1s who sold their account
19 information to the coconspirators and others before leaving the United States. The 20 coconspirators utilized these nominees in order to help conceal the nature, location,
21 source, ownership, and control of the unlawfully obtained tax refunds.

22 25. The coconspirators obtained the unlawful proceeds of the directly deposited
23 fraudulent tax refunds by having J1/F1 coconspirators and others withdraw cash from a
24 recipient account or from a secondary account, and obtain cashier's checks and money
25 orders.

26 26. The coconspirators utilized the bank accounts and other methods to launder 27 the proceeds of the fraudulent tax refunds, including by: (a) transferring funds between 28 accounts, including accounts held in different names and at different banks; (b)

1 withdrawing cash from the accounts; (c) purchasing cashier's checks and money orders;
2 (d) cashing Treasury checks and cashier's checks; and (e) delivering and receiving cash.

3 27. The coconspirators possessed, shared, and used lists of stolen PII of identity
4 theft victims, Green Dot cards, bank account debit and ATM cards, and other banking
5 documents, all in furtherance of the conspiracy.

6 28. The coconspirators communicated information relevant to obtaining 7 fraudulent tax refunds through a variety of means designed to conceal their criminal
8 activity and frustrate law enforcement, including: (a) using coded and ambiguous
9 language to refer to various aspects of the conspiracy; (b) avoiding the use of their real
10 names and instead referring to each other by nicknames; (c) using prepaid cell phones 11 (also known as "drop phones") which they changed on a regular basis; (d) meeting in 12 crowded public places and in locations that provided them vantage points from which to 13 conduct counter-surveillance (e.g., at the end of cul-de-sacs); (e) prohibiting phones from 14 being carried during certain meetings; and (f) using shared email accounts. Through this 15 latter technique the coconspirators created a Web-based email account and shared the 16 account login and password information with each other in order to set up a private 17 method of communication.

18 29. The coconspirators conducted other aspects of their activities and 19 transactions in a manner designed to conceal their criminal activity and frustrate law
20 enforcement, including: (a) conspiring with J1/F1 short-term visa holders who were 21 scheduled to be in the United States only for a limited period of time; (b) e-filing
22 fraudulent tax returns using Web-based services like Turbo Tax by using the names of 23 identity theft victims; and (c) leasing or renting cars, often in the names of others, and 24 using paper dealership license plates.

25 30. Certain coconspirators committed, attempted, and threatened to commit acts 26 of violence, and promoted a climate of fear through violence and threats of violence, to 27 further the goals of the conspiracy and to ensure that coconspirators and others did not
28 inform law enforcement authorities regarding the conspiracy.

31. The coconspirators filed and caused to be filed more than 2,000 fraudulent tax returns for tax years 2010 and 2011, claiming tax refunds totaling over $17,000,000.

B. Overt Acts
